Hilda Is Moving To Cuba

Eighth Hurricane Heads for Cuba And Bahamas With High Tides and Big Wind

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Hilda now packing 90-mile winds over a small area near its center, moved on a westward course today that threatened eastern Cuba and the southern Bahamas with high tides and heavy winds.

The eighth tropical storm of the year moved south of Great Inagua Island and at 11 a.m. was centered 590 miles southeast of Miami. It was expected to continue its westward movement at about the same forward pace for another 12 hours or more.

Storm forecasters in the Miami Weather Bureau advised interests in the southern Bahamas and eastern Cuba against rough seas, high tides and gale to hurricane force winds this afternoon and tonight. Great Inagua, about 650 miles southeast of Miami, is the site of a big plant where coarse salt is extracted from sea water and shipped to countries around the world. The island's population of about 2,500 is mostly native.

Strong winds blew throughout the night at Turk's Island as Hilda passed about 60 miles south of there.

If Hilda pursues her present path, she will skirt the north coast of Cuba tonight and possibly move inland.

Four previous storms born in that area hammered Florida during the past 30 years. The great 1926 hurricane that raked Miami came from there. So did the 1928 storm that moved inland at Palm Beach and Okeechobee also came from that area. All of them blew up in September except the 1949 hurricane, which was in August.

If Hilda moved fast enough to catch a low-pressure trough extending southward from Cape Hatteras, she would swing more to the north and away from Florida.

But if she misses the trough—and her slow pace indicated she might—she could head for the coast.

Another Ransom Bill Discovered At Philadelphia

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The FBI here announced today the discovery of another of the $20 bills from the missing Greenleaf ransom money at the Federal Reserve Bank in Philadelphia.

It was the 26th bill from the missing ransom to be discovered since Aug. 4 and the first to turn up in the East.

Seventeen of the bills have been found at the Federal Reserve Bank in Chicago and others in St. Louis, East St. Louis and Quincy, Ill., Salt Lake City, Utah, Jacksonville, Fla., and Minot, N. D.

A record $600,000 was paid by the wealthy parents of 6-year-old Bobby Greenleaf when he was kidnapped and slain in September 1953. Slightly less than half of the money was recovered with the arrest of his kidnappers.

Water Main Bursts At Building Site

WASHINGTON (AP)—A water main burst with explosive force today dumping tons of earth into the excavation for the 22 million dollar new Senate Office Building.

Philip L. Roof of the Capitol architect's office estimated the burst ripped out 150 feet of sheet steel piling, pouring earth and water into the excavation. Roof said there had been no official estimate of the damage.

Roof said no injuries had been reported.

We Have Evidence

If you think it's been a chore getting up the last two mornings because it's been chilly, at least we can prove you're right about it being chilly. Frank McMullin, 18 miles northeast of Sedalia, reports he saw a very light frost at his farm before dawn Monday morning.

The temperature at 7 a.m. was 57; 86 at 1 p.m., and 88 at 2 p.m.

The temperature one year ago today, high 91, low 61, two years ago, high 80, low 49; and three years ago, high 88, low 67.

Mostly fair and warmer tonight and Wednesday. Low tonight in 60s. High Wednesday near 90.

Search Brings in Planes--

California Police Seek Four Youths and Missing Plane

LAKEPORT, Calif. (AP)—Search planes roared overhead while forest rangers struggled through a region of 6,000-foot mountains and twisting ravines today looking for four young persons in a plane which vanished Sunday.

The hunt was in an area 120 miles north of San Francisco so rugged it could hide wreckage for a long time.

Will Drill Test for Oil At Calhoun

Geological Tests Judged Promising, Land Being Leased

Drilling of a test well for oil at Calhoun will get underway within 60 days, according to Gene Burns, Vinita, Okla., who said he is an oil scout for five independent companies. News of the proposed venture first reached Calhoun residents on Sunday.

Burns said that he was first attracted to the area in 1940, and that more recent checks by geologists have given indications of the possibility of profitable operations in the Calhoun vicinity. A modern drilling unit will be brought from Oklahoma for the work, and Burns said they expected to hit Bartlesville sand (a technical term denoting oilbearing sand used in the oil industry) at about 3,000 feet.

Burns estimated the cost of the test hole at about $40,000, and said that if oil is not found, the well would be given to the city of Calhoun, close enough to be used as a water supply source.

Before operations get underway, Burns said he hoped to lease about 4,000 acres, including some lots in the city of Calhoun. He said that tests would not be made on the coal-producing land of Calhoun but on the fringe of the strip mining belts. Plans call for leasing of an acreage one mile long and four miles wide, north and west of the city.

The lease is the standard formula for the major oil companies, he said. Leases will be held in escrow at a local bank for a period of one year. According to this arrangement, no money is paid for the leases, but after one year if the lease is retained a payment of one dollar per acre per year is made. The leases carry the usual one-eighth royalty clause, to be paid the landowner if producing wells follow.

"Leases will not be sold or traded," Burns said, affirming that the operation was an honest test for oil that would not involve paper speculation.

It was reported today that four leases have been or will be signed by Calhoun residents.

Burns, a native of Eldorado Springs, said that he had been in the oil industry for 34 years, working in Oklahoma, and owned several producing wells in the Vinita and Nowata fields there.

Lush Diplomatic Title Faces Elimination In New Ambassadorial Age

WASHINGTON (AP)—A title that has been borne by world-renowned Americans from Benjamin Franklin to Perle Mesta seems about to disappear.

It's "envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary." Until 1933 this was the highest title given any U.S. diplomatic representative. In that year the first U.S. ambassador was named. He was Thomas Francis Bayard, accredited to Britain's Queen Victoria.

Since then the upgrading of legations headed by ministers to embassies headed by ambassadors has gone on apace. The total of embassies reached 72 last week with the promotion of the U.S. legation to the grand duchy of Luxembourg—where Mrs. Mesta had served as minister for a time until 1933.

'Hatchet' Board Revealed

French Cabinet Names Four Men To Depose Moroccan Sultan Ben Moulay

PARIS (AP)—Premier Edgar Faure's cabinet today named a four-man "hatchet committee" to depose Sultan Mohammed Ben Moulay Araf as the first step in a reform program for Morocco.

The four ministers are to supervise the decision stated in a letter to the sultan from France's President Rene Coty. Coty promised the monarch an honorable exit and a generous financial annuity.

This was France's answer to terms set by the sultan in an earlier letter to Coty. He demanded a guarantee that pro-Nationalist former Sultan Mohammed Ben Youssef, would not be restored to the throne. On this point, according to reliable informants, the French government was vague, replying merely that France has no intention of reestablishing Ben Youssef in power.

Moroccan Nationalists regard Ben Youssef, whom the French ousted and exiled two years ago, as the legitimate ruler and Moulay Araf as an usurper. The French have promised the Nationalists to bring Ben Youssef from Madagascar to France, pending a final decision on his future.

The four men appointed by the cabinet are Vice Premier Gaston Palewski, Pierre July, minister for Tunisian and Moroccan affairs, Justice Minister Robert Schuman and Overseas Territories Minister Pierre-Henri Teitgen.

The plan to remove Moulay Araf, replace him with a three-man regency and introduce new measures leading to more self-government for the protectorate was approved unanimously by the cabinet last night.

A spokesman for the Nationalist Istiglal party in Morocco predicted today that Moulay Araf would leave voluntarily before the end of the week, probably on Friday. His prediction was in contradiction to a flat statement from the Sultan's palace that he is determined to stay.

Morocco was generally quiet. Moderate nationalist leaders urged their followers to be patient, saying at least a partial victory was at hand. Terrorists had called for a general strike but response was slight.

The ouster of Moulay Araf was the primary condition laid down by Moroccan nationalists for any settlement in the stormy North African protectorate. French officials gave no indication of how they expected to get the Sultan out of the palace in Rabat.

Shortly after the Cabinet agreement was announced, spokesmen for Moulay Araf said in Rabat: "In these circumstances, His Majesty once more has solemnly affirmed his determination to remain on the throne until God decides otherwise."

Senator Johnson Charges Waste In Post Office

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) said today "many qualified observers believe 250 million dollars can be saved by elimination of waste" in the Post Office Department.

If this is so, said the senator in a speech prepared for the annual meeting of Associated Third Class Mail Users, "it is unfair to the taxpayer to do nothing about it and then require the users of the mails to pay for such waste through increased rates."

Johnston said the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee, which he heads, will make an intensive investigation of the department looking for inefficiencies and ways to improve service.

He said the Eisenhower administration had put "the severest pressures" on Congress to raise rates "to ruinous levels."

President Eisenhower and Postmaster General Summerfield have repeatedly urged a boost in rates to wipe out as much of the postal deficit as possible. The deficit was 362 million dollars in the most recent financial year.

Johnston said one question his committee would consider is whether the postal service should be treated as "purely a business" or as a "service to all the people."

Female Sot Problem In Alcoholism Fight

DETROIT (AP)—Tipping housewives are becoming a growing problem in the fight against alcoholism, a sociologist says.

Robert Straus, sociologist at the New York State University Medical Center, told the first annual International Institute on the Skid Row Alcoholism yesterday that security is leading many women to become what he called "plateau drinkers."

He defined a plateau drinker as one who "prefers to maintain a limited level of obliteration through alcohol for as long a time as possible, rather than seek intensive but short-lived intoxication."

British Quell Riot Of Cyprus Youth

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Green-bereaved British commandos quelled a near-riot in the coastal Limassol last night.

Gangs of youths stoned police who tried to stop them plastering slogans of Eoka, an underground terrorist movement, in the streets.

The commandos dispersed the crowd after only a few stones had been hurled. There were no reports of any casualties, but windows in a British services canteen and a British-owned bar were shattered.

Provincial Police Raid A Church

Follows Squelching Of First Military Uprising Since June

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Provincial police raided parish offices of a Roman Catholic Church in Cordoba last night and seized leaflets and copies of pastoral letters. They made no arrests.

The church, Maria Auxiliadora, is in the capital of Cordoba Province in north central Argentina. Authoritative sources said last night an attempt by dissident army officers to stage a rebellion from that province against President Peron's regime misfired 11 days ago when a major informed on the plotters. That was the first reported military uprising since the unsuccessful navy-led revolt of June 16.

Other incidents were reported elsewhere in the country today.

Dr. Moises Haskel said two bombs, which failed to explode, were found Sunday in the doorway of his home in Resario in east central Argentina, second largest city in the country. Haskel is a member of the "University Committee for Ingallinella."

Dr. Juan Ingallinella was a Communist leader who was arrested after the June revolt. He died while in the custody of provincial authorities. A group of provincial police were arrested on charges of torturing the doctor and tossing his body into the river.

Four unidentified assailants yesterday tried to set fire to headquarters of the Peronista Women's party in Coronel Pringles, a town in Buenos Aires Province. The attackers threw naphtha at the front door, but police rushed to the scene and extinguished the fire.

Interrogation of prospective jurors began yesterday before a large crowd in the court of Circuit Judge James B. Clemens of St. Charles County. The trial had been moved here on a change of venue.

Extra deputies were recruited to guard against any incidents. Vidauri and four other prisoners scheduled to appear as witnesses were brought here from Jefferson City yesterday under heavy guard.

James T. Riley, Cole County prosecuting attorney, has summoned 17 witnesses. 10 of them highway patrolmen. Defense attorney is James Rankin of St. Louis.

Five convicts received life sentences and a sixth, Rollie M. Laster, has appealed a death sentence to the State Supreme Court for their part in the slaying of Donnell, 29-year-old St. Louis convict, who had been confined to death row for his own safety after turning state's evidence.

They were charged with killing Donnell with knives and sledge hammers after breaking into his cell at the height of the riot last Sept. 22.

Vidauri, 20, was serving a five-year term for manslaughter from Kansas City at the time of the riot. Laster and Jackie Lee Noble were found guilty in Cole County. The other trials were moved to other counties when the defendants pleaded they couldn't get a fair trial in Cole County.

Others given life sentences were Donald W. DeLapp, Paul E. Kenton, James W. (Slick) Stidham and William R. Hoover.

KC Annexation Plan Is Given Court Nod

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—A Kansas City annexation plan was upheld by the Missouri Supreme Court yesterday but the court declined to rule whether a 1953 law would be constitutional if applied to other cities.

The law was passed in an effort to make annexation more difficult. It requires a city to get a Circuit Court order showing its plan is reasonable and that it can supply municipal services in the new area.

James W. McConnell, a resident of an area south of Kansas City, said the city did not follow that procedure but the court held that Kansas City, as a constitutional charter city, was not bound by the 1953 law.

A St. Joseph group asked the court whether the law would apply in a proposed annexation there but the court declined to rule on that.

DROUGHT MOVES UP—Holding some good ears of corn grown this year despite the drought that has moved up to the northwest section of Missouri, Glenn Hardy of Grant City, Mo., points to huge cracks in the ground due to dry weather. "We have had only one-half inch of moisture since July 2," Hardy explained. The fertilizer-treated corn field was planted May 21 and Hardy expects to harvest 50 bushels to the acre despite the drought. (NEA Telephoto)

New Store Hours Adopted--

Sedalia Business Houses Stay Open Later on Friday

Effective this week the store hours will be changed from 9 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. on Fridays and from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Saturdays. This change of hours was made at a meeting Tuesday morning of the Retail Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce held in the assembly room of the court house. People of the area have found it a little difficult to get their shopping done by 8 o'clock on Friday, most of them having to go home first and then to town, so the extra half hour has been added to Friday night with Saturday having a half hour less.

The meeting was presided over by Albert Zurcher Jr., chairman of the Retail Merchants in the absence of George Dugan Sr., director of the division.

Holiday closing hours were also decided on for the remainder of the year. Stores will be closed on Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 24; Monday, Dec. 26, which is the Christmas holiday and Monday, Jan. 2, the New Year's holiday.

The stores will remain open all of Christmas week until 8:30 p.m. with the exception of Saturday, closing on that day at the usual time. That will be Monday, Dec. 19; Tuesday, Dec. 20; Wednesday, Dec. 21; Thursday, Dec. 22 and Friday, Dec. 23.

Cline Cain, chairman of the Christmas decorations, gave a short talk on the decorating of the downtown business area for the Christmas season. The group decided to again take care of the decorating of their own stores and that the across the street decorations would not be used this year.

Cain displayed folders containing suitable decorations that might be purchased for the buildings, carrying out such as candles 12 feet high and Santa Claus teams 35 feet in length. He urged that merchants put their light decorations up to the top of the buildings instead of across the top of their store fronts for a truly attractive effect and stated that he would have a meeting of electricians soon to make plans for that type decorating. The Christmas lights will be turned on the night of Nov. 25, which is the day following Thanksgiving.

Ed Kehde, chairman of the Christmas parade, stated that the big parade will be held this year the morning of Saturday, Dec. 3, at 10 o'clock. Kehde stated that he hoped the civic clubs and other organizations would cooperate and have floats in the parade to make this a really big parade. Merchants talked over plans to go together in groups to build floats for the parade and Kehde stressed the carrying out of the Christmas theme but not using any Santa Claus on the float. After all, said Kehde, there is only one Santa Claus.

A report on the off street parking was given by Jack Faber who said that progress was being made. He told the group this was a tremendous job and those on the committee had done a lot of hard work in trying to bring it about.

Faber also talked on bogus checks telling the merchants to check with the Chamber of Commerce even if the person trying to pass a check or make a deal of some kind had credentials that looked good. The Chamber of Commerce, he said, can check the Better Business Bureau by a telephone call if necessary.

Others given life sentences were Donald W. DeLapp, Paul E. Kenton, James W. (Slick) Stidham and William R. Hoover.

They were charged with killing Donnell with knives and sledge hammers after breaking into his cell at the height of the riot last Sept. 22.

Adenauer Bulganin End Talk

Moscow Radio Says Diplomatic Relations Will Be Established, Adenauer Is Silent

MOSCOW (AP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin ended their historic talks tonight.

They signed a statement which was not immediately made public.

Bulganin was asked by a reporter, "How did things end?" He replied with a smile and handshake, "Everything is fine."

Adenauer and Bulganin had talked for an hour and 45 minutes this morning in an effort to break the stalemate on conferences started Friday on the restoration of relations between the two governments.

They resumed sessions this afternoon that carried over until tonight.

(Moscow radio, heard in London, said Russia and Germany will establish diplomatic relations.)

Asked to comment on the conclusion of the talks, Chancellor Adenauer said: "No press conference now."

The West German leader has scheduled a meeting with newsmen for 8 a.m. tomorrow before his scheduled departure for home.

Western diplomatic circles generally doubted that anything concrete would result from the parley which began last Friday.

But a German spokesman commented: "Since we meet again this afternoon, there is always hope. It is always good when discussions continue."

The Chancellor had a long talk with Bulganin and Soviet Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev last night at a glittering banquet given by the Russians. German press spokesman Felix von Eckardt said the discussion at the party might give a "certain lift" to the conference.

Up to this morning, there was no indication any sort of agreement would result from Adenauer's visit.

Texas Fearful Of More Rains After Floods

RAYMONDVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Flooded-damaged Raymondville asked for help today as the lower Rio Grande area eyed heavy clouds with apprehension.

Forecasts indicated more rain. The state civil defense office warned yesterday that Gulf squalls that sent rain-laden clouds scudding over the low border country might bring more floods such as the one that has ravaged this south Texas town for days.

City and county commissioners last night appealed for aid to this town of some 10,000 persons as more rain fell. More than 4 inches hit nearby Weslaco. Lesser amounts peppered the whole rich vegetable and citrus-growing area.

Tropical storm Gladys last week left three to four feet of water over a 50-block area of Raymondville. Much of the water still remains and a blocked sewage system caused concern over health. A powerful odor spread over the town.

Typhoid vaccine was administered to thousands, insecticides were sprayed over the area, and part of the water which sent about 900 persons scurrying from their homes was pumped away.

Raymondville Mayor Mary Frost said she was getting calls from all over Texas offering help for the flood-stricken, most of whom are housed in an old migrant labor camp near the town's outskirts.

She said the immediate problem was how to feed, house and clothe the evacuees. The Red Cross was helping.

Russian Farm Tour Might Bring Others

NEW YORK (AP)—Leaders of the Russian agricultural mission predict their two-month tour of the United States and Canada will be followed by more and more U.S.-Russia exchanges.

Eleven members of the group held a final news conference at Idlewild Airport last night before leaving for home.

Their leader, Vladimir V. Matskevich, said:

"It is difficult to make out what was the most interesting part of the United States. The most memorable impression was that of the hospitality of the American farmers. They tried to show us everything on the farms and all their methods."

Alexander V. Tulupnikov, director of the Soviet's All-Union Scientific Research Institute of Agricultural Economics, told reporters before the news conference that the visit of the 12-man mission to the United States will be "of great benefit to our two countries."

This sentiment was echoed at the conference by Matskevich, the Soviet Union's first deputy minister of agriculture, and Arkady Sobolev, head of the Soviet Union's permanent delegation to the United Nations.

Matskevich said the group's most valuable souvenir of the trip is the 60 head of Santa Gertrudis cattle and three Herefords they are having shipped to Russia. Yuri F. Golubach, Soviet deputy minister of state farms, remained behind to complete arrangements for purchase of the Santa Gertrudis cattle in Texas.

Knob Noster PTA Hears Address On Refreshments

The regular meeting of the Knob Noster Parent-Teacher Association met at the multi-purpose room in the new Knob Noster grade school Sept. 3 with Mrs. L. H. Hughes presiding, with approximately 175 parents, teachers and friends in attendance.

The PTA decided to sponsor a pie supper in an effort to raise funds to pay for a water cooler to be installed in the high school building. Also, the PTA will sponsor a membership contest. A prize of $5 will be awarded to the room with the largest percentage of members prior to the November meeting. Room count award went to Mrs. Norman's room in the grade school and Mrs. Parrott's room in the high school.

Supt. James E. Jageman gave a short talk on the new state bill, Referendum 1 and 2, which will be voted upon by the public Oct. 4. Referendum 2, he said, is known as the new school foundation plan for more efficient use of school funds appropriated by the General Assembly. Our present basic school apportionment laws were set up back in 1931, he said, during depression times and improved only once in 1943. Therefore, they are geared to an economy of one-fourth century ago, he stated. We are in a new era and school laws must be established for our present day needs, he concluded. The Knob Noster PTA voted to endorse and actively support the school foundation plan.

The parents had an opportunity to visit their children's room and to make the acquaintance of the teachers.

Extension Of Runways Brings Riot

SUNAKAWA VILLAGE, Japan (AP)—Nearly 2,000 tough but well-disciplined Japanese police today smashed a leftist union demonstration against American air base expansion.

The stocky, young denim-clad policemen had armored cars, tear gas and fire hoses ready if necessary. But they did not use even their clubs and steel helmets as they waded barehanded into chanting, yelling lines of 4,000 angry Sunakawa villagers and union supporters from nearby Tokyo.

At least 74 were injured on both sides in a series of jarring clashes. The police held almost complete possession of the field.

The incident was touched off by the Japanese government's latest attempt to start surveying Sunakawa farmland for extension of jet runways for the huge American air base at adjoining Tachikawa.

The police victory was enough to allow a symbolic peg driving by the surveyors, but no real survey was possible as the embattled thousands surged back and forth across the fields all day.

The lengthening of Tachikawa's runways to handle new-type atom bomb carriers is the first of five such scheduled air base expansions.

The extensions are violently opposed by anti-American, pro-Communist union leaders and politicians, as well as by more or less nonpolitical farmers embittered by loss of their ancestral lands.

No Americans were involved in today's dispute.

Steer Is Killed Monday When Hit By Auto

A family of four had a narrow escape about 8 o'clock Monday night when the car in which they were riding struck a large Black Angus steer on Highway 135, about 4 miles north of Junction of Highway 50. The animal died within a few minutes after the accident.

Calub James McNulty, 29, accompanied by his wife Mrs. Juanita Marie McNulty, 27, and their two children, Ella Marie, three, and Debra Ann, four, was headed north on the highway when the accident occurred. Mrs. McNulty suffered a minor laceration on her nose, while the others were only shaken up.

McNulty told Trooper Earl Gregory of the State Highway Patrol he was driving along when he came upon the black steer in the center of the roadway. The color of the animal against the black top pavement made it almost impossible to see the steer until the car was upon it.

The front end of the 1949 Ford sedan was smashed in. The steer kinda staggered walked over toward the ditch along the west side of the road and toppled over and died.

The accident occurred in front of the farm of John Edward Mullins, Route 1, Smithton. Mrs. McNulty and her two daughters were brought to Sedalia by a friend who was passing the scene a short time later and taken to the Bothwell hospital where Dr. Pete Siegel treated Mrs. McNulty and examined the two children.

Arrest Owners Of Home Where Socialist Died

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The district attorney's office last night arrested the couple in whose apartment Mrs. Doris Jean Ostreicher died and accused them of criminal abortion.

Dist. Atty. Samuel Dash swore out warrants against Milton Schwartz and his wife Rosalie charging them with committing abortion resulting in the death of the Food Fair Stores heiress, and with conspiracy and perjury.

The Schwartzes were picked up at the West Philadelphia home of relatives and hustled off to City Hall for questioning.

They declined to answer any questions pending consultation with their attorney William A. Gray. Schwartz would only state his age—48.

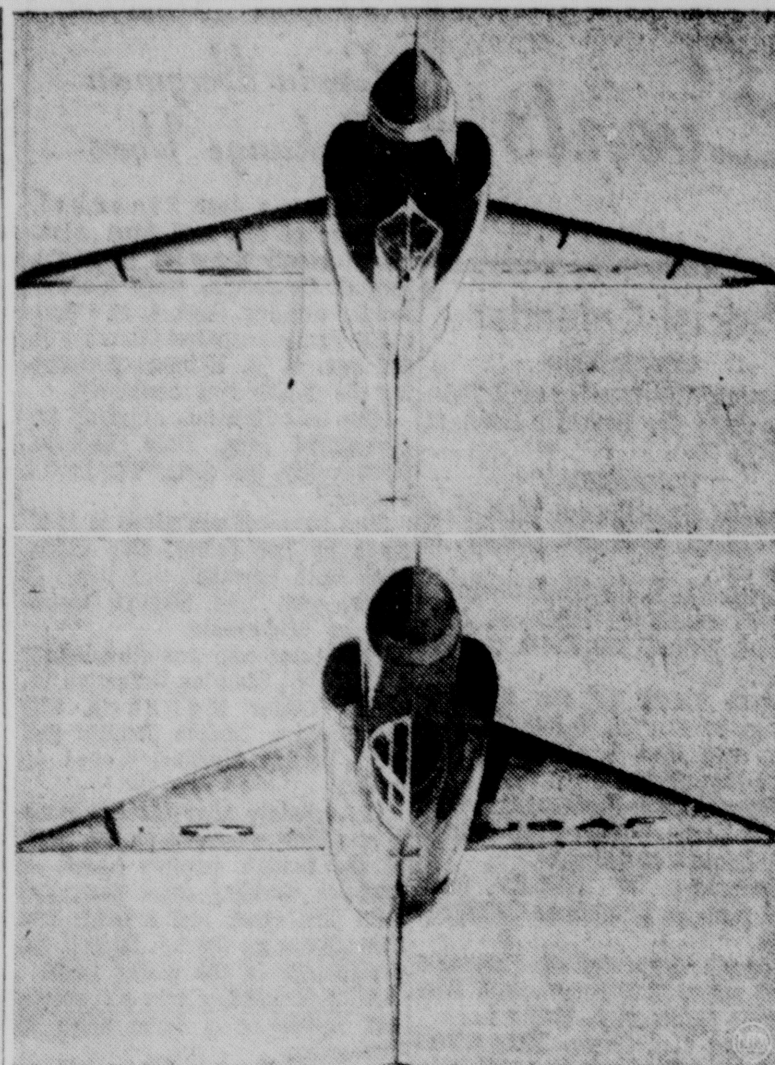

The Schwartzes were released on bail of $5,000 each, to appear at a hearing Thursday before Magistrate Elias Myers.

They will appear in the same small courtroom where Mrs. Gertrude Silver yesterday afternoon was found not competent to face charges of being an accessory to the death of her daughter.

Mrs. Silver was freed on $1,500 bail, with the recommendation that she be placed in a mental hospital until she is fit to face her accusers. Her attorney and physician agreed to the recommendation and said she would be placed in an institution soon.

Union Fight Attorneys Sum Up Case

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Did Edward Chevin intend to kill or harm his larger adversary, Ernest B. Shoemaker, during an altercation Jan. 9, 1952, during a Teamsters' Union fight in Kansas City?

That question dropped into the hands of the Missouri Supreme Court today as attorneys for both sides made final arguments.

Chevin's attorneys admitted he was armed with a loaded pistol. They said testimony in Circuit Court showed he made "an exceedingly insulting, uncomplimentary remark" to Mrs. Lorine Shoemaker, the alleged victim's wife and a trustee of Teamster's Local 838.

The defendant's attorneys told the court that Shoemaker burst into the union offices at that point and Chevin pointed the pistol at him.

The testimony showed Chevin said to Shoemaker:

"Start something and I will blow your ——— guts all over the wall."

Chevin's attorneys said their armed client didn't intend to kill or harm Shoemaker. He had the gun and all he had to do was pull the trigger to harm him. But he merely followed Shoemaker down the hall and down the stairs, calling him "vile names."

The lower court sentenced Chevin to six months in jail and ordered him to pay a $300 fine. Chevin appealed.

The Supreme Court is not expected to issue its decision in the case before next month at the latest.

Pettis County Welfare Office Clothing Drive

A clothing drive, sponsored by the Pettis County Welfare Office, has been opened in connection with the organization's county assistance program. The Welfare Office urges all Pettis Countians to participate in the campaign.

Announcement of the drive was made by Roseann Dugan, Director of the Pettis County Welfare Office. Miss Dugan stated that the clothing gathered in the previous drive has been distributed to those persons receiving public assistance in Sedalia and Pettis County, and a new supply is needed.

This earlier drive was handled by the officers' wives of the Sedalia Air Force Base and donated exclusively by them to the Pettis County assistance effort.

There is a particular need at this time for clothing in school-age children's sizes, although all other types and sizes of wearing apparel can be used.

Anyone giving clothing in this campaign is asked to call 496, before delivering the donation to the clothing room on the second floor of the courthouse building.

Diabetic Girl Needing Insulin Shots Missing

WASHINGTON — A 15-year-old diabetic girl who needs two insulin shots a day is missing and her father has appealed for help in finding her.

Mariann Myers left home Sunday evening without protection against the rain, without money and without the hypodermic equipment which she uses to take insulin, her father Fred Myers said yesterday.

Myers, executive director of the National Humane Society, said Mariann may have been despondent over having to enter a new school. The family moved here from Denver two weeks ago.

Segregation Influences Meeting Site

HONOLULU — Racial segregation today appeared the big issue before delegates at the Protestant Episcopal Church convention in selecting a site for its next convention in 1958.

The issue arose yesterday when the Joint Committee of Bishops and Deputies met to consider invitations from Miami Beach, Fla., and New York.

The present convention was shifted from Houston, Tex., to Honolulu because of segregation in Texas.

Supporters of Miami Beach said there would be no segregation between Negroes and whites. New York supporters said they had the facilities and no segregation problem.

The House of Deputies quickly approved yesterday a $6,907,947 budget for each of the next three years. It represents an increase of nearly one million dollars over the current budget.

The deputies beat down a motion by John Ebaugh of Birmingham, Ala., to adopt a budget of slightly more than $8,000,000. The bishops must approve the budget before it becomes effective. They may act today.

The budget, as approved by the deputies, increases the church's spending on missionary work from $4,278,135 to $4,929,826. It also recommends spending $100,000 a year on radio and television material for church work.

The joint committee hearing on the next convention site attracted nearly 200 spectators.

Jessie F. Anderson, a lay delegate from Philadelphia, in referring to the Miami Beach invitation, asked:

The Rev. W. F. Moses of Sarasota, Fla., replied that "Negroes have been and will be given reservations in Miami Beach hotels without any question about race."

Three Whites Charged With Threat to Negro

REFORM, Ala. — Three white men carried a 21-year-old Negro away at gunpoint yesterday but later returned him unharmed, Sheriff R. R. Shields reported.

The officer said Mutt Jones, 21, was forced into an automobile while walking along a highway near here. Shields said the men threatened Jones with a shotgun.

The officer said Wiley McGee, 24, Cecil Sullivan, 27, and James L. Roberts, 25, all of Gordo, Ala., were being held on an open charge in the Pickens County Jail at Carrollton.

Shields said he intended to charge the three with presenting fire arms, and assault and battery.

The white men wanted to see if Jones was a Negro who had threatened John Wesley McGee, father of Wiley, with a blackjack Saturday night.

She said she accepted an invitation to study at the institute, issued during her tour last year, "so that I can return to France to help disabled veterans there."

Billy Graham Claims Misquote in Inquiry On Norwegian Morals

ASHEVILLE, N.C. — Evangelist Billy Graham says he was only partly quoted when he answered a newsman's question regarding morals in Norway.

The Rev. Carl J. Preus, a Lutheran minister, said in New York yesterday Norwegians were "burned up" at Graham for reportedly saying Norwegian morals are "at a low ebb."

Dr. Preus returned yesterday from a three-month trip to Norway. Graham said his reply to the reporter's query on Norwegian morals was "I was told by a number of Scandinavian leaders that morals were lower than before the war."

Graham said he did not mean to imply that morals in Norway were lower than in the United States.

"I deeply regret that I was only partly quoted," he said.

Graham spent two days in Norway on his recent European preaching trip.

Red Offices Searched In Algerian Cleanup

ALGIERS, Algeria — French police early today concluded searches of Communist party headquarters throughout Algeria. Piles of documents were seized and carted off for study by the security services. Communist newspapers were also raided.

The action coincided with publication in the official journal in Paris of the recent French decree outlawing the Algerian Communist party and all its affiliates.

Negroes Sue in Dallas For School Attendance

DALLAS, Tex. — A suit to force the Dallas Independent School District to allow 28 Negro children to attend classes with white students near their homes was on file here today.

Federal Judge William H. Atwell set a hearing in the suit, filed yesterday by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, for Friday morning.

NAACP Atty. U. Simpson Tate said the Negroes tried to enroll in the white schools and were refused admission.

Dr. W. T. White, Dallas school superintendent, said he planned to continue segregation in local schools while a study of the problem continued.

Save Child In Fall From Open Window

LOS ANGELES — Four-year-old Saul Rodriguez, being an inquisitive little fellow, opened a second-story window yesterday a few minutes after his mother had left to take her daughter to school.

Saul leaned out, lost his balance, fell and wound up hanging from the window sill by his fingertips, 20 feet above a concrete walk.

Just then a police car came by. Officer Robert Lea ran to the spot below the window, just as Saul let go. The boy landed squarely in the policeman's arms, unhurt but tearfully scared.

Child Poor Judge Of Safety

As long as new mothers and fathers keep coming along with new baby sons and daughters there'll be a world full of worry—the kind of worry which acts as a trigger to protect youngsters from injury and teach them safety measures.

Teaching them not to swallow objects, not to play flying-machine off porch railings or crawl out windows onto sloping porch roofs, not to run with sharp sticks in their hands, not to stick pins into electrical outlets, not to play around a kitchen stove in use, not to do this, not to do that. The don'ts are infinite.

Protective care of children is necessary if they are to mature whole by escaping the hazards of childhood.

Of particular interest in the field of parental attention to the perils of child accidents is one related to accidental injuries of the eye. An estimated

2,800 children in Missouri are likely to suffer such injuries this year, Doctor Franklin M. Foote has warned. He is executive director of the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, a non-profit sight conservation agency.

More than 90 per cent of eye accidents are preventable. Extra vigilance may keep a child from becoming handicapped for the rest of his life by damaged vision caused by sharp objects which cause 25 per cent of eye injuries.

Because children are poor judges of their own safety parents are urged to save the youngsters from needless injuries caused by playing with sharp objects, BB-guns, slingshots, bows and arrows, rubber bands and paper wads.

Make sure toys are suitable for a child's age.

Practice "Sight Saving Month" every month.

Demos Ponder Campaign Strategy Stabs

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — How to attack the Eisenhower-Republican administration in the 1956 campaign presents the Democrats with an unusual political problem.

The logical, number one target of the Outs in any election has always been the President of the Ins.

But this time the President, like a gentle, unarmed and guileless mahout, rides and drives the old GOP elephant which the Democrats would have you believe was meaner than all get out. Their question is whether to shoot at the driver or just aim at the tough side of the elephant.

President Eisenhower has set for himself a personal political policy of inspirational leadership. See no evil, hear no evil, speak no evil. Not even of the Russians, Joe McCarthy or ex-President Harry Truman when he accuses Ike of "misrepresentation and demagoguery."

Mr. Eisenhower has decided to ignore all such attacks. This makes it difficult for the Democrats to pick on him. And they are divided on how it should be done.

Mr. Truman, Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler and other party leaders favor direct criticism of the President himself as the responsible head of his administration. They would blame him personally for all his party's shortcomings.

Other Democrats — largely the congressional faction — think that's the wrong road. They point out that they won the 1954 elections not by attacking the President but by going after his administration and the Republican Congress.

This would mean laying off the President for fear of a political backfire from smearing a popular leader. It would mean concentrating the criticism on the boys in the back rooms, where they say the President's high principles are not so scrupulously observed. For example:

The end of the Dixon-Yates contract has not yet been heard. Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee can be counted on to defeat that to its fullest political implications in furthering his own candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Gov. Sherman Adams, the assistant to the President, has so far successfully defied the Kefauver committee on revealing his role in this business. But the operations of the President's civilian chief of staff may yet come under further political scrutiny.

Ex-Sen. Harry Cain's recent revelation that Governor Adams told him, "To hell with the merits" of his criticism of the administration's security program, provides the Democrats with a usable political battle cry.

"This is a team and you're expected to play

Guest Editorial--

CAPE GIRARDEAU MISSOURIAN: Social Security for Hired Help. A Cape Girardeau woman who employs house help two or three days each week was complaining in a conversation with others about a government regulation requiring the payment of social security taxes by housewives if they come under the regulations. She thought it was rather foolish, she said, to be forced to keep records and deduct from the maid's pay her part of the social security tax.

It does seem somewhat of a nuisance, but there are good points in the program that perhaps the woman did not stop to think about. The requirement is that if a worker is paid as much as $50 in a given calendar period of three months then the employer, in this case the woman, must make a report and pay the social security tax, 2 per cent from the worker's wages and 2 per cent by the employer.

Admittedly it makes some sort of a book-keeper out of the woman of the house, yet that is not the important point about the regulation. The thing that counts is that it puts the employee under social security so that the man or woman, when they become of the required age, may participate like others in its retirement provisions. In other words they may draw retirement pay just as other persons do.

Many of those who do house or yard work for others may work for a half dozen different persons in the course of a week. If they draw from any one of them enough in wages to make them eligible for social security then they should insist that those who employ them file a report and pay the tax. The amount in most cases will be small, both for the employer and the worker, and, after established, the matter of record-keeping should not prove too great a strain on the housewife.

As a matter of fairness, not to mention the application of the principle of the Golden Rule, every person who employs the services of others should be willing to cooperate.

on it," Adams told Cain, according to his Collier's piece. The implication is that all Republicans must think as the White House staff does. But can the President be held responsible for all the actions of all his subordinates?

Rep. Joe L. Evins (D-Tenn.) started a House Small Business Committee investigation of the independent agencies of government just before Congress adjourned. It didn't get much attention. But it offers considerable political possibilities for exploring the role of the White House staff in steering the decisions of supposedly quasi-judicial agencies.

This would get into the changing pattern of decisions coming from Federal Trade, Federal Communications, Federal Power, Securities and Exchange commissions, and the National Labor Relations and Civil Aeronautics boards.

It is here that the Democrats think they have the best opportunity to develop their case that the GOP is still the party of special privilege for big business, regardless of who's at the head of it.

In the 1954 elections, Republican National Chairman Leonard Hall and Democratic National Chairman Stephen Mitchell signed pledges to run clean campaigns, without the personal smears. But the promises weren't kept for long. A fair assumption now is that the 1956 campaign won't be any cleaner, in spite of any "lay-off-Ike" sentiment.

Whither, Senor Peron?

As time passes, the initial post-revolution judgment of Argentine President Peron's position seems confirmed. He has not been materially weakened for the short run, but his long-term prospects are more precarious.

For a while after the rebellion died down rumors flew that Peron no longer was in full command, that he had become in fact a creature of the Army whose loyalty had saved his skin.

Evidence indicated that Peron had indeed given Army Minister General Lucero responsibility for Argentina's security. The general also became head of all the armed forces, a post normally held by Peron.

But Lucero did not keep these powers. What the outside world does not know is whether the Army exacted any sort of price for returning them to Peron.

But if this is not so, then there is some sense in the thought that the Army might have gained concessions from Peron. But it is significant that he did not fill cabinet vacancies with Army men. It is reported that the Army hopes to get rid of him, but wants to do it gradually. One notes first off that since the revolt Peron has toned down his bitter attacks on the Catholic church. He says now that the government will protect all church property.

And there are reports that some kind of agreement between Church and State may be drafted. Most Argentinians are Catholics, and the signs suggest strongly that Peron's anti-Catholic campaign was not popular. The rebels timed their uprising to coincide with what they judged was a restless mood among the people.

Even before the mid-June revolt, it was being widely predicted that Peron had overreached himself in trying to cripple the power of the Catholic church.

In this effort he was following the time-honored course of the dictator, who seeks progressively to crush every rival nucleus of strength in his country. But he was hardly pursuing the path of wisdom.

How long he lasts from here on out will depend in large degree on how carefully he can avoid reaching too far another time. Most experts believe that ultimately he is doomed to fall.

If somehow he escapes that fate for more years than they imagine, in any event he seems destined to remain the second-rate tyrant he always has been.

The Real Trial By Fire

The World Today--

Malone May Have Been Puzzle to Reds

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George Malone may have been a bigger puzzle to the Russians than any other member of Congress they met since the Geneva conference gave the cold war a new look.

On Sept. 1 in Moscow Malone, who only a few months ago considered Russia the world's No. 1 outlaw and wanted to break diplomatic relations with her, swapped toasts with the Russian leaders to peaceful coexistence.

Americans themselves are apt to be a little puzzled when the traveling lawmakers return home and begin giving their reactions to the Russians. The reactions probably won't be the same.

Yesterday Malone was one of five senators who spent almost two hours in the Kremlin with the Communist bosses. He reportedly asked, and got from Premier Bulganin, permission to travel around Russia, seeing what he wanted.

Last January on the Senate floor, Malone said: "I have never known a real outlaw in my life who reformed, and I do not expect that from the world's top outlaw—Russia."

"But Russia being the outlaw she is, is all the more reason why we should break off diplomatic relations with her."

The other four senators with Malone in the Kremlin were Kefauver (D-Tenn.), Young (R-ND), Dvorshak (R-Idaho) and Frear (D-Del.).

It is possible that some of the lawmakers may return from their brief look-around in Russia feeling that they saw a little more, or a little deeper, than the State Department, which has representatives there the year around.

Sen. Ellender (D-La.), who visited Russia just a short time before, came away saying: "If people saw countries like the Soviet Union, Poland and others, they would see things in a different light."

"This trip was a revelation to me. It was far different from the impression I had gained from the State Department."

The State Department may be hearing from Ellender on what he thinks of Russia for some time to come.

On the whole the senators seem to have received better treatment from the Russians than members of the House who visited there. At least they haven't been complaining.

Two House members—Representatives Holt (R-Calif.) and Rhodes (R-Ariz.)—came away complaining they hadn't been allowed to see all they wanted to in Russia. And Holt said a Russian army lieutenant held a cocked pistol to his head.

As Sedalia Sees It--

Rising Sun of Japan Has Some Cloud Obscurities

By Joseph A. Dear
Democrat-Capital
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — A Japan risen from the ashes is one of the most perplexing problems before our diplomatic planners.

Its complexity was underscored during the visit of Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu, who is also Deputy Prime Minister of Japan. First, there is the man himself.

He is proud — of his office and his country. But it was Shigemitsu who signed the surrender document on the battleship Missouri. And ironically, the surrender occurred practically ten years to the day before his visit. Later he was tried, convicted, and imprisoned as a war criminal. Now who can say for sure in what manner that experience has conditioned his thinking?

No doubt the personal equation is of trifling importance. But other points raised by Shigemitsu obviously are not. For example, during an address to the National Press Club he gave it as his opinion that Southeast Asia "offers potentialities as a more attractive market than does China." Before saying this, he admitted that there is "popular pressure in Japan" for expanding the trade with Red China.

Shigemitsu's preference is not as reassuring as it sounds. True, our officials hope Japanese commercial interests will concentrate on Southeast Asia rather than Red China. That's because most of South Asia is still on the right side of the Bamboo Curtain. But the Communists may pick up the rest of Indo-China during 1956. And that could change the picture.

If Southeast Asia — or a substantial portion of it — is lost to Communism, popular pressure in Japan for increased trade with China will increase. Indeed, the pressure might become irresistible. Japan is land poor. Its natural resources are limited. But its population is large and growing. Its industrial plant is the finest in Asia. And its people are energetic and aggressive. They will demand an outlet.

It's a cinch Japan will find no trade outlet with the West. Already the American textile industry is alarmed by the competition of Japanese mills. And the West Coast tuna fishing industry has discovered that it just can't compete profitably with the Japs. Both these groups are demanding protection. If other industries are threatened, they too will call for higher protective tariffs.

Such a sequence of events—the loss of South Asia and a higher American tariff structure—would tend to discredit the present regime in Japan. The governing coalition is composed of Liberals and Democrats. Theirs are the conservative parties in Japan. If they fall from power, their successors will be more difficult to deal with, according to our experts.

And the fact is that we are having a tough enough time with the present regime. On the issue of rearmament, for example, little progress has been made. The Hato-yama government, of which Shigemitsu is an influential member, professes sympathy with American objectives on this question. But an atmosphere of unreality surrounds negotiations.

The Japanese, naturally, are anxious for a total end to the occupation. They even look forward to reclaiming Okinawa, our big base in the Far East. United States is willing enough to consider a withdrawal of occupation troops. But as a precondition, we are insisting that the Japanese first build up a defense establishment that will guarantee necessary protection from attack.

That the Japanese are reluctant to do. During the MacArthur era, Japan adopted a Constitution which specifically bars the nation from building up a military establishment. The Japanese are enthusiastic about this provision. According to our experts, it is almost impossible for any Japanese politician identified with the pre-war military clique to win elective office.

The Japanese apparently derive malicious satisfaction in watching our attempt to undo our accomplishments of the MacArthur era. Vice President Nixon, during his tour of the Orient, candidly conceded that we were in error in persuading Japan to add the disarmament clause to their Constitution.

This impressed the Japanese favorably — Nixon made a very good overall impression, according to observers in Japan. But Although the Japanese were prepared to admire Nixon's candor, they were not willing to scrap this section of their Constitution. And during the last budgetary debates in the Japanese parliament, there were many complaints about the size of the bill United States charged for maintaining military units in Japan.

of the German Methodist Episcopal Church, delivered his farewell sermon to that congregation before departing for Ellinwood, Kan., to take a pastorate.

Indians Put Up Their Lead Against Washington Tonight

Jinx Club Plans To Knock Them Off Then Take After New York Yankees

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Cleveland Indians put up their 1½-game American League lead on the line tonight against a Washington team which swept the last three-game series the two teams played here.

A two-night doubleheader tonight and a third game Wednesday night loom as a major obstacle to Cleveland's hope of repeating its 1954 pennant victory.

"If we get by Washington," said Cleveland Manager Lopez, "we will be in an excellent position, although it won't be a cinch."

The Senators are only a seventh place club, but they go into the series with a 12-7 lead over Cleveland in games this season.

Vice President Calvin Griffith said the Washington team is "really eager" about the Cleveland series, and added:

"The boys figure they're going to knock the Indians off the top."

But it will be a matter of beating the Indians, not of helping the second-place New York Yankees, said Manager Chuck Dressen. He's hoping to do the same to the Yankees next week.

"I don't care anything about helping the Yankees," Dressen said. "That isn't the point. It would just give us satisfaction to make a good showing against Cleveland in this series and scramble the American League race again."

"Then we'd like to duplicate that when we play the Yankees next week."

The Indians had no explanation for their poor showing against the Senators this year.

"We just seem to play our worst against them and they play their best against us," Lopez said.

Statistics seem to bear that out. Cleveland has committed 28 errors in the 19 games played, while Washington has had 11. Cleveland pitchers have been able to complete only two games against Washington, while the Senator hurriers have lasted through nine.

Lopez Still Says the Race Will Be Hard All the Way

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Can Cleveland's 1½-game lead survive the Washington jinx? That's the next question in the American League pennant quiz—and the flag may be riding on the answer.

The Indians look as if they may have packed away the pennant when they came from behind to earn a double-header split Sunday against the second-place New York Yankees.

Musial Alone Was the Star For the Cards

Pittsburgh 'Lefty' Stops St. Louis; Stan Hits As Usual

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's a good thing for Lino Donoso, that the lefty-shy St. Louis Cardinals are in the league.

Donoso has a 4-6 season record, not bad for a first year man with a last-place club. Three of his victories were over the Redbirds, the latest a 9-3 six-hitter last night at St. Louis.

Stan Musial was just about all there was to the Cardinal attack. The Man smacked his 29th and 30th home runs of the season and increased his runs batted in total to 101. It was the sixth time in the past eight years he's hit 30 or more homers and the eighth season he's batted in more than 100 runs. He just missed 100 three other seasons.

Mel Ott of the New York Giants is the only National League player with more 100-plus RBI seasons. He had nine. Ott also is the only man in league annals with more lifetime extra base hits than Musial's 1,014. Stan moved past Hall-of-Famer Rogers Hornsby in that category last Saturday.

Musial's exploits were about all the meager crowd of 3,289—lowest in two years—had to cheer about. Dale Long led the Pirates with four runs batted in and three scored on a 3-for-3 night. His three run homer in the fourth broke a 1-1 tie and sent Harvey Haddix down to his 16th defeat.

The Cardinals took the season's series from Pittsburgh, 12-10, and lead the Pirates by four and a half games.

The Kansas City Athletics had an open date prior to today's important double header with the Boston Red Sox.

PRETTY SOFT—Army players use leather pillows practicing blocking. This doesn't mean the Cadets won't hit as hard as ever in the opener with Furman at West Point, Sept. 24.

Hurricanes Still Apparent In Havoc Over Golf Courses

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Two winners whose names never will appear on the scoreboard already have made a deep impression on the upset-riddled National Amateur Golf Championship.

They are Connie and Diane, a couple of hurricanes that dumped tons of water on the Country Club of Virginia's James River course last month and left the greens an enigma to the 200 competitors in the Amateur, which began yesterday.

Form went out the window. Ex-champions Charley Coe and Dick Chapman, crowd-pleasing Billy Joe Patton and a whole flock of other players who figured to do well wound up on the sidelines.

Most of them—even the winners—blamed the greens. In an effort to bring them around after heavy rains, they had been clipped, rolled and given a top-dressing just before the tournament. They were slick and hard for the first round. "You couldn't put a shot up there and have it stick anywhere near the pin," said Jimmy McHale, one of the few favorites who came through.

Walker Cup Captain Bill Campbell, another winner, noted the greens on the back nine were faster than those on the front side, and others complained of their inconsistency.

The biggest sufferer probably was Patton, the colorful, talkative North Carolinian who scrambled his way to prominence last year. Erratic always, Billy Joe threatened his way out of the tournament in an extra-hole match after saving himself on the 17th and 18th.

Patton's conqueror was George McCallister, 45-year-old ex-pro from Los Angeles, whose best previous performance was going to the final of the 1944 North and South Amateur Championship. He won out with an ordinary par 4 on the 23rd hole, where Billy Joe three-putted for the second successive time.

In addition to Patton, Coe and Chapman, the first round saw the last of such players as Don B. Splinghoff, the big Florida kid who went to the quarter-finals of the

Turner Out on TKO In Bout With Rivers
LAS VEGAS, Nev., (AP)—A low, a cut eye and the sharp jab-uppercut combinations of Neal Rivers, 158½, Las Vegas, resulted in a fourth round technical knockout of Jesse Turner, 158, St. Louis, Mo.

Turner lost the second round of the scheduled 10-rounder last night by a low blow that momentarily stunned Rivers. But Rivers came back and went to work on Turner's cut left eye. Turner's seconds threw in the towel, the traditional symbol of defeat, after 50 seconds of the fourth round.

Mickey Mantle of the Yankees heads the American League in circuit blows with 37.

Big Seven Underdogs In Saturday's Games

Only Nebraska And Kansas Favored; Iowa State Doubtful In Powerful Starts

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Big Seven Conference, opening its 1955 football season Saturday with a five game slate, will be hard put to match its record of 4-1 in the season openers of a year ago.

Kansas State and Nebraska are the only favorites. Iowa State could provide a surprise but Missouri and Kansas remain underdogs.

The Wildcats open at home against Wyoming of the Skyline Conference. It will be the rubber game between the two teams. The Cowboys won 20-7 in 1952 and dropped a 21-13 decision to K-State last year.

Nebraska plays host to the University of Hawaii at Lincoln in the second game of a home and home series. The Cornhuskers humbled Hawaii 50-0 at Honolulu last year.

Iowa State plays Denver, another member of the Skyline Conference, at Ames. Coach Vince DiFrancesca's Cyclones could do no better than a 3-6 season last year while Denver racked up a 9-1 year.

Kansas begins its second year under the guidance of Chuck Mather and there appears to be little hope that the Jayhawks will be able to end their 16 game losing streak at the expense of Texas Christian. The Jayhawks have won only two and tied two games in their 11-game series with TCU. The last Kansas victory over the Southwest Conference power was in 1952.

Missouri is still seeking its first victory over the Jim Tatum coached Maryland team. The Tigers are not expected to be much stronger than last year when they tumbled to Maryland 74-13.

Last year's opening day found Oklahoma edging California, Colorado whipping Drake, K-State beating Colorado A&M, Iowa State beating South Dakota and Kansas losing to TCU.

Colorado and Oklahoma will be idle this Saturday with the Sooners opening Sept. 24th against North Carolina and Colorado playing Arizona.

On the practice field yesterday Missouri held a light drill while Coach Don Faurot worried about a lack of depth at right end. Terry Roberts, a standout guard two years ago had been shifted to the end but a recurring knee injury has put him on the sidelines again.

Kansas State worked on weak points and mistakes found in its full-game scrimmage of last Saturday.

Chuck Mather of Kansas revamped his first string lineup following the 21-20 defeat handed the first squad by reserves last Saturday.

Nebraska lost halfback Harry Johnson for an indefinite time yesterday when he returned home pending a determination of his eligibility.

Sophomore Al Rickert appeared to have won the starting quarterback post at Iowa State yesterday. Coach DiFrancesca praised the youngster's all-around ability.

Colorado was hit by injuries. Reserve quarterback Don Strait is out with a broken ankle; Bert Bordie, fullback, was hospitalized with an internal injury, and tackles Sam Salerno and Henry Smith are sidelined with knee and ankle injuries.

Oklahoma went through a mild scrimmage as Bud Wilkinson continued to experiment with his starting lineup.

DALLAS, Tex. (P)—A large number of police and highway patrolmen descended on the muddy Trinity River bottoms to hunt two men who had robbed Charlie Jones, 78, of $7.
One patrolman's car got stuck in the mud. Other officers floundered in bushy wetness.
Someone suggested it might be better to give Charlie Jones $7 and forget the whole thing.
And that's what they did.
